

ANTI-BULLYING POLICY

Preamble

The School Standards and Framework Act 1998 requires maintained schools to have an Anti Bullying Policy. To comply with the Race Relations Amendment Act 2000 The Human Rights Act 1998 and The Special Education Needs and Disability Act 2001. More recently, the policy needs to comply with the Equality Act 2010.

It is a basic entitlement of all children taught at Porthcawl Comprehensive School that they receive an education free from humiliation, oppression and abuse in its various forms. It is the responsibility of the Head Teacher and Staff to ensure that the experience of education takes place in an atmosphere that is both caring and protective. Parents are entitled to feel confident that when they send their children to school that they will be safe and protected in loco parentis.

All staff, governors, pupils and parents should be aware of the negative effects that bullying can have on individuals and the school in general, and should work towards ensuring that pupils can work in an environment without fear. It is believed that bullying is a totally unacceptable form of behaviour. No member of the school community should be subjected to bullying or harassment by any other member of that community. The “Anti Bullying Charter” is included in the pupils’ homework diaries and when appropriate bullying issues are discussed in school council. Issues of bullying are included in areas of the PSE curriculum so that concerns can be openly shared and addressed. Pupils are involved through various means in sharing their views on bullying.

Policy

The School will create:

- an environment in which children feel safe and are able to express themselves without fear or intimidation
- a co-operative ethos in which the school, the children and the parents work together to prevent bullying
- a curriculum through which children can be helped to gain personal qualities and self esteem needed to minimise the risk of bullying
- an atmosphere where bullying will be reported and acted upon
- processes whereby children at risk can be identified and their needs responded to promptly and efficiently
- procedures to deal with incidents of bullying fairly and firmly

Aims:

- to demonstrate that the school takes bullying seriously and will not be tolerated
- to take measures to prevent all forms of bullying in the school and during extra curricular activities
- to foster an ethos of self and mutual respect throughout the school
- to support everyone in their actions to identify and protect those who might be bullies
- to demonstrate to all that the safety and happiness of pupils is enhanced by dealing positively with bullying
- to respond firmly to victims of bullying and to take immediate action
- to promote an environment where it is acceptable to tell someone about bullying
- to give help, guidance and support to the victim
- to encourage the bully to understand and overcome the causes of his/her behaviour
- to follow up regularly to check that bullying has not resumed
- to promote positive attitudes in pupils (including assertiveness training)
- to integrate the issues of bullying into areas of the PSE curriculum so that concerns can be openly shared and addressed.

Process

Definition of Bullying: “it is a persistent wilful, conscious desire to hurt, threaten or frighten somebody either physically, verbally or mentally.”

This aggressive or insulting behaviour may be committed by an individual or a group, often repeated over a period of time that intentionally hurts or harms. It is difficult for victims to defend themselves against it.

Forms of Bullying: All members of the school community should recognise that the instances of cyber bullying (using mobile phones and social networking sites to abuse intimidate or make defamatory remarks) are increasing and that the following can constitute bullying.

- physical assault
- name calling
- threatening anyone
- picking on people
- teasing and forcing people to do something against their will

- being unkind to people
- malicious gossip
- punching and jostling
- theft
- intimidation
- damaging someone's property
- violence and assault
- extortion
- sexual harassment
- exclusion from groups

These signs and symptoms are for the whole school community of school staff, parents and students to act upon. All should be encouraged to respond and report where they have any misgivings about what they see.

The Headteacher will:

- ensure that all staff have an opportunity of discussing strategies and reviewing them
- determine the strategies and procedures
- discuss development of the strategies with the leadership group
- ensure appropriate training is available
- ensure that the procedures are brought to the attention of all staff, parents and pupils
- report annually to the governing body.

- ensure that there are positive strategies and procedures in place to help both the bullied and bullies
- keep the Head and designated teacher informed of incidents
- arrange relevant staff training
- determine how best to involve parents in the solution of individual problems
- determine in consultation with heads of year how best to involve support agencies in the solution of individual problems

Senior and Heads of Year will:

- be responsible for ensuring that the school's positive strategies are put into practice

- inform the appropriate member of staff if the problem is difficult for them to resolve or appears to be serious

Form Tutors will:

All Staff will:

All Parents Will:

- inform the school if they are aware of or suspect bullying is taking place
- encourage children to be friendly and tolerant to others and not be aggressive

- support the school if further action needs to be taken.

Procedure

Dealing with incidents of bullying:

- act promptly to investigate alleged incidents of bullying, but do not apportion blame. The victim and perpetrator(s) must be interviewed and explore their feelings and perceptions about the incident
- never disbelieve a complaint, say there's nothing you can do, or refer to 'telling tales'. We must encourage pupils to tell, to undermine the secret power of the bully
- ascertain the nature of the bullying, in particular if physical violence leading to injury has taken place
- show concern and support for the victim; try to calm the victim; attempt to reassure the victim and restore his/her confidence
- listen carefully and establish the facts and factors involved
- subject to the nature of the incident, discuss it in the context of helping the victim to overcome bullying him/herself
- gather evidence from third parties to verify or otherwise the incident as described by the victim
- interview the alleged bully and third party witnesses to verify or otherwise the incident as described by the former
- prepare a written report – Cause for Concern – and follow procedures that relate to the use of this document
- the Senior Head of Year/Head of Year will ask both parties to record the events in writing. A clear record of all discussions will be kept and placed in pupils' files. The strategy adopted will depend on the nature of the grievances
- the situation will be closely monitored and if there is any recurrence both parties will be referred to the police liaison officer/appropriate support agency who will work restoratively with them
- the parents/guardians of the pupils involved should be informed/asked to attend for interview as appropriate
- staff will be asked to be positively aware of known victims and will be asked to help raise their self-esteem
- where continued monitoring reveals that the problem has not been resolved the Head teacher should take action to find a solution which may result in a fixed term or permanent exclusion. In the event of any disciplinary action taking place, the Head teacher may inform the chairperson of governors and the whole Governing Body if necessary through the disciplinary sub committee.

Action to be taken by the appropriate staff in the school:

Following a full investigation and explanation of the findings of the enquiry, the severity and frequency of bullying on the person or other persons will determine the action to be taken. Changing the attitude and behaviour of bullies will be part of the responsibility of the positive procedures used by the school. However, responsible staff should recognise that sanctions will also have to be used against bullies and may include:

- severe reprimand, to include the witnesses who did not intervene (if appropriate)
- verbal warning that future incidents will lead to other sanctions:
- placed on pastoral report
- detention
- inclusion
- exclusion
- permanent exclusion

Who to inform:

- inform Year tutor/ Senior Management. Inform colleagues if the incident arises out of a situation where everyone should be vigilant
- parents of both parties, to be informed as soon as possible of the incident and outline the action taken by the school. Responses noted on causes for concern. Parents should be informed calmly, clearly and concisely and their support sought to prevent further incidents.
- If the bullying is as result of one or more of the protected characteristics, then it should be logged in the Equality File (previously the 'Race log' file) in the main office.

What you should avoid doing:

Do Not:

- be overprotective and refuse to allow the victim to help him/herself
- assume that the bully is at fault and that the victim has no case to answer

- keep the incident to yourself because you have dealt with it
- try to hide the incident from the parents of the victim or bully
- call in the parents without having a constructive plan to offer either side

The Role of Parents

Bullying in school is everyone's responsibility. All staff, pupils and parents should be aware that bullying exists and share a commitment to combat it and to make the school a happier place for everyone.

Parents should watch out for signs that their child is being bullied or is bullying others. Parents, carers and families are often the first to detect symptoms of bullying. Common symptoms include:

- displaying personality changes
- complaining of feeling unwell (frequently)
- having unexplained bruises and injuries
- having possessions destroyed or go missing
- showing reluctance to go into the playground

- refusing to say what is wrong
- gives improbable excuses for any of the above points

Parents should ask their child about school, progress being made and any friends they have. They should not dismiss negative signs. If they are worried, they should contact the school straight away.

Parents of a Bullied Child should: -

- talk to the child calmly about it and reassure the child that telling them about it was the right thing to do
- make a note of what the child says/keep a diary of events, times and places and what was said
- explain that the child should report any further incidents to a teacher or other member of staff straight away
- make an appointment to see the child's form tutor as soon as possible
- try to boost the confidence by getting them to join clubs
- advise their child to stay with groups of children
- encourage the child to be assertive by saying "no" or "leave me alone" in a loud voice.

Parents of a Child who may be bullying others should: -

- talk to the child and explain that bullying is wrong and makes others unhappy
- show the child how to join in with others without bullying
- make an appointment to see the child's form tutor or year tutor as soon as possible, explain the problem and discuss how the school and the parents together can stop the bullying
- talk to the child regularly about how things are going at school
- give the child lots of praise and encouragement when they are being kind and considerate to others
- punish the child if he/she continues to bully.

Advice to Bullied Pupils

If bullied a pupil is advised to: -

- try to stay calm and look as confident as they can
- be firm and clear; look the bully in the eye and tell them to stop
- get away from the situation as quickly as you can
- tell an adult e.g. a teacher, what has happened straight away
- tell the 'Peer support listening service'
- tell their family
- take a friend with them if they are scared to tell an adult by themselves
- use the support services in school
- not blame themselves for what has happened
